About Onco Update

The European Association of Urology has collaborated with The Urological Society of India to host the First Ever EAU-Onco-USI Update in Kolkata, India on 22nd and 23rd February, 2025.

This unique Conference promises to offer cutting-edge insights into the ongoing debates and controversies in urooncology practice. The meeting will feature distinguished international faculty, including Dr. Juan Gomez Rivas and Dr. Marco Moschini, both renowned for their expertise in prostate and urothelial cancer respectively. Their sessions will provide valuable perspectives on the latest developments and challenges in these areas, sharing the EAU experience.

Besides this we will have a gala of eminent urooncology practitioners from our country deliberating and sharing the experience on Indian perspective. We look forward to engaging discussions and expanding the knowledge alongside fellow professionals from around the world.

We appeal to all Urologists to take this opportunity to participate in this vibrant interactive academic feast with gusto. This will enable us to position ourselves in the international platform and be recognised as a thought leader group in the world.

Please do register and be counted to this very happening futuristic platform.

Long live the Urological Society of India
